WILL GOVERNOR COX STOP WILLARD-DEMPSEY BOUT?

Columbus, O., June 19.—With Governor Cox confined to his bed at his home near Dayton by illness, no official at the state capitol would express himself authoritatively as to the gov-ernor's probable action in response to the resolution adopted today by the lower house of the general assembly requesting him to prevent the Willard-Dempsey prize fight in Toledo July 4. The general impression, however, is that Governor Cox will not interfere. Lieutenant Governor Brown stated that he had no legal authority to act.
At the executive office it was stated that the policy heretofore followed would be pursued, and that Governor,

Tox would have no statement to make even though he were here. The resolution declares that the fight | (a) Batted for Ayers in Min. promoters have failed to obtain per-mission for the exhibition in "all of North America, except Ohio and old Mexico," and asks the governor to "follow precedents of former governors in upholding the fair name of the state of Ohio and to take proper steps to prevent the taking place of the proposed prize fight within the confines of the state of Ohio." The resolution also declares such exhibitions as the proposed Toledo bout "are brutal in their nature and not conducive to good

YALE-HARVARD RACES IN PAST FIFTY YEARS

Yale and Harvard eights have rowed 50 races, beginning in 1852 on Lake Winnipesaukee at two miles, when Harvard won, says the Boston Post. In 1855 the course was changed to Springfield and lengthened to three miles. Lake Quinsigamond was the scene for nine years and Lake Saltonstall for 1859. After an interval of seven years the crews in 1876-77 went to Springfield, Mass, when the four-mile course was incorporated to 1875. GAME FOR PHILLIES mile course was inaugurated. In 1878

CONNIE MACK RESIGNS

FROM MANAGERIAL RANKS The retirement from the managerial ranks of Cornelius McGillicuddy, known to the baseball world as Conme Mack, is foreshadowed in the re-cent return to baseball of Harry Davis, long the lieutenant of crafty the Athletics on the field.

Mack, developer of the greatest baseball machine of recent years, if not the greatest of all time, seems destined to pass out of the managerial ial ranks with a string of failures marring a record that had known nothing but success at Quakertown for 14 years. Connie dismantled his great machine after losing the 1914 World's series and since tht time he has been trying in vain to develop another winning combination. ( For four consecutive Mack's teams have finished in last place and the aggregation which he is piloting in the 1919 chase promises, no higher finish.

Mack has been the directing head of one team for a longer term of years than any other manager now in the game. Likewise he has been handling ball clubs longer than any other pilot in the history of the game. He got his first chance back in 1894 when he succeeded Al Buckenberger as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates finishing that season and continuing as boss of the Corsairs through the seasons of 1895 and 1896. From the National league he went to the Milwaukee club of the Western league and in 1901 he became manager and part owner of the Athletics when part owner of the Athletics when Philadelphia became a member of the Pct. American league. RACING STILL POPULAR
